THE FIRST AND THE LAST: One way of responding to the teaching of Jesus is to take a Gospel passage and identify with each of the main characters in the parable or story. Then one needs to recognise one's feeling and reactions. It is called "owning our biases". We all approach the Gospel with preconceived ideas and basic assumptions about life. This is just the way we are and it's not a matter for guilt or blame. We can however take responsibility for ourselves which opens the way to seeing things in a new light and responding in a different way. Jesus is always challenging our basic assumptions about self, others, the world, what is good and bad and what is worth striving for. If we want a relationship with God now and if we hope for that relationship to endure for eternal life then we must continue the effort to get on God's wavelength. Thankfully God will do all the hard work if we let her.

Take this Sunday's Gospel. There are three main characters, the landowner, the labourers hired first and the labourers hired last. We need to stand "in the shoes" of these different people and experience what it feels like. Then we can ask ourselves why we think and feel the way we do.

Some years ago, when I was in South Africa I noticed that in certain places in the towns labourers and craftsmen would stand around waiting to be hired by contractors. Imagine if you have a family to feed or if one of your children is sick. You don't have regular job & therefore no regular wage.

You have to depend on others to hire you. Then when you have been hired and have worked hard all day long you get the same money as someone who has only worked a few hours. How does that make you feel? What are the expectations of justice and fairness? What if you are a trade union representative?

Now put yourself in the shoes of a labourer hired last. You have been waiting for most of the day. You are getting more and more depressed and worried. Will you get enough money to live on? Will you have to work on into the night? How will you feel having to go home to the family with only a little money, not enough to pay the bills and buy food? How will you feel when you are paid the same as those who have worked all day? You receive something you didn't earn or deserve. The gift comes from the sheer benevolence of the landowner. How does that feel? Would you feel more secure if you had earned the wages?

Now put yourself in the position of the landowner. It is your land, your money and you control the work. Would you pay the labourers the same? Would you think about their personal circumstances? Would you be influenced by the objections of other people?

If the landowner represents God it means that God looks to the needs of each person. It means that God gives according to God's own goodness. God is free to do as she sees fit with her gifts. As God is loving to us all we have no reason to complain. (DMA)

SCHOOL NEWS: Librarians OLSJ We are pleased to announce our librarians this year at OLSJ! As you can see from the photo on their website- all of Year 6 put their name forward, which is testament to how much OLSJ love to read! Many of these children were also our librarians in Year 5! Our librarians play a very important role in our school - they don't just tidy books and our library bus! They are ambassadors that promote reading for pleasure across the school. They recommend reads to other children, keep our library up to date with book reviews, helping with displays, scanning books and supporting our younger students with accessing books on the bus. They read to other pupils on the bus as part of storytime and support Miss Green with organising topic books for across the school. They will also support the development of our 'Blue Peter Book Club' this year. Teachers across our partnership have been involved in National Literacy Trust training to support development of school libraries and reading for pleasure. They will be working with our librarians to share their learning from this course. Watch this space - we are hoping to plan a summit between all of the partnership schools for some 'librarian training', sharing our favourite texts and books with each other, recommending reads and authors, as well as a potential trip too!

MASS AT ST DOMINIC'S PRIORY: For the time being the Sisters at St Dominic's cannot be certain about the provision of daily Mass. This is why I have not included them in our weekly service schedule. If you go onto their website homepage you can scroll down to find the notification of daily Masses which will be celebrated at the Priory. https:// www.dominicansisters.net/

SR VERONICA'S WEEKLY REFLECTION: Welcome, we return once more to the theme of the vineyard. This is a difficult parable to understand at times, but really highlights the great generosity of God the Father towards his people https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=HQBz9fU205A. God Bless Sr Veronica OP

CAFOD decries UK government U-turn on green policies: WILL YOU SIGN THE PETITION? Prime Minister Rishi Sunak has announced he's U-turning on policies to tackle the climate crisis. We can't stand for this. Millions of our sisters and brothers around the world are being hit by the climate crisis and millions more will face even greater catastrophes unless we take urgent action to cut emissions. Let's show the PM that we want him to play his part in the fight to care for our common home. Will you sign the petition and urge Rishi Sunak not to backtrack on climate action? Google -Tell PM not to break climate cash promise - Campaign - CAFOD And that will take you to the relevant page.

JACQUES DELACAVE RIP: (Thanks to David da Cunha for the following) Jacques who was a long standing member of the parish from about 1986 until about 2010, died aged 90 on 9th September. Jacques was Belgian, married to Martine and had four children (three living all in UK). He started life as a banker but on moving to Lymington became very involved with the church. He was a great friend of Fr Don (who was French speaking having trained in Paris!) and his younger daughter was married on a Saturday afternoon from OLMSJ! He was a man of vision, contrary ideas but generous to a fault. He rather fell out with Fr Danny and thereafter went to St Dominic's Priory where he was a great supporter. In about 2010 he and Martine moved to Hardelot in France where they lived until May of this year when he returned to live in a care home near his daughters in Weybridge. He was not in good health and was bedridden until he died. His cremation took place in Weybridge and his ashes buried in the family vault in Brussels. There will be a simple Mass in his memory at 12:15pm at St Dominics Priory on Friday 29th September. The family will be there but there will be no wake. So we will attend, see the family and pay our condolences. Others may wish to do the same and will be welcome. Jacques was a really kind, decent and generous man and will be much missed.

COFFEE MORNING NEXT SATURDAY 30TH SEPTEMBER. Coffee morning in Joseph's Place from 9.30-1pm to raise funds for CAFOD Ukraine. Usual selection of cakes with coffee only £2 donation. Books to browse and everyone most welcome.
